THE WORLD IS FULL OF
beautiful places.
LET YOUR HEART
be one of them.

Assalammualaikum my Champions,

I'm writing today's Closer feeling slightly high from my birthday celebrations. My heart is humbled and full, knowing that Allah SWT has given me so much while I've given only so little. Today, I was shown how much love He showers upon me through the people He has so beautifully placed in my life - and this includes you, my dear Champs.

The best part of my birthday was the number of duas I received today, and boy, what beautiful, thoughtful, meaningful prayers they were! These prayers could only be made from a pure source, i.e. from hearts that are beautiful and sincere, and this realisation made me smile so wide. :)

It means that I am surrounded by people whose hearts are beating only for Allah, and that's the most beautiful thing in this world!

The world is full of beautiful places, and our hearts should be one of them. And if you are wondering whether your heart qualifies, then know that if you are here today, showing up for His sake, and doing the best you can, that's certainly a sign of a beautiful, blossoming heart, my dear.

In this heart-full episode, we will embark on a journey of intense sadness and grief of the mother of Nabi Musa AS after she was inspired by Allah SWT to throw her newborn child into the river. (Yes! Throw!)

But how did Allah SWT calm her heart and carry her through this difficult episode towards a happy finale? Tune in to this very raw, very real, and very beautiful episode for the answer! PS: This episode

a beautiful Dua

Ya Allah, please open doors of goodness for me, lighten my load, lift the weight on my shoulders, and fill my heart with faith so that I can face this test with a smile.

#abeautifuldua

Whenever I think of Rasulallah SAW, I will always imagine his beautiful smile. And I will think about all of the times he was in pain and had to struggle, but his beautiful smile would still be gleaming brightly on his face. (May Allah allow us to see Rasulallah SAW in our dreams, Amin!) I aspire to be like that - to have a smile on my face even when I'm facing difficulties and I quickly realise that the only way I can do that is to seek His Help constantly and consistently through duas. I pray may your smile never leave your face too, Champ. 😊 a good deed to try

This is 100% inspired by our Rabiulawal Revision this week where we learned about Rasulallah SAW's blessed lineage and birth! I think it would be so cool to know who our predecessors are and the legacies that they've left behind. Thankfully for me, I have an Uncle who has been very active in updating our family tree and I'll definitely be calling him this week so that I can take a look at it hehehhe!

@mvslimhumor

These keep getting funnier 😂😂😂

LOOOOL! We can't fight our fitrah (natural disposition), ladies! The soul will naturally know that there is a Rabb, that there is a Creator. <3
Thank God for that!

Something to Ponder

A beautiful heart finds beauty even in the hardest of times.

Especially in the hardest of times.

I remember a friend was sharing with me that "struggles are like cuddles from Allah SWT" and I never looked at hardships the same way again! She is definitely one of the most beautiful souls in my life and that hones her ability to find beauty, anywhere and everywhere. A heart that has a strong connection with Allah SWT will always remember that every single test that we are placed in was specifically designed and personalised just for us, and it was gifted to us from a Rabb that is Rahman! So when I catch myself doubting Allah's perfect plans, trying to question His perfect timing, or worse, being frustrated at His Decree, then I know that the state of my heart is far from good. The remedy to this is to increase in the remembrance of Him, which again, because He is ar-Rahman, we can do this through many ways. (My go to will always be Duas, Solah and the Quran.) 🤲

PS

ending it with His Words

Quran 13:11

Strive for 'the cause of' Allah in the way He deserves, for 'it is' He 'Who' has chosen you, and laid upon you no hardship in the religion.

Allah has chosen YOU!

YES! YOU!
You are worthy!
