may our legacies

BE NOBLE,

be honourable,

AND FOR HIS SAKE.

Assalamualaikum my Champions,

My heart is all over the place today, and I have so many things I want to share with you too. First of all, I'm sure many of you already know, but one of our beloved Champs, Sister Fatima Abdullah, passed away last Thursday. Her passing impacted so many of us, and will continue to affect us for a long time to come. She was a beautiful soul, that was loved by many but one thing that really struck out to me was her deep, deep love for Quran. Many sisters came forward sharing stories or moments that they shared with Fatima, and it always revolves around the Quran.

I thought to myself, what a beautiful legacy Fatima has left behind, Ma Sha Allah! May Allah SWT grant her the highest of Jannah, reunited with Rasulullah SAW, and where she is the first amongst us to be in our "AA Plus neighbourhood" in Jannah, Amin!

Her passing also made me see how beautiful this community that we have on AA Plus. When news broke out, so many of you came forward to offer help, Ma Sha Allah. Money was raised so swiftly to ease the burial process for Fatima whilst the remaining amount was channelled to charitable causes that are close to Fatima (building a well in Cambodia, contributing to a mosque in Kelantan, and sponsoring a female student to study the Deen full time in Yemen). A handful of you Champs even managed to drive to Penang to bid her farewell and prayed behind her jenazah. Writing this still gives me goosebumps, because I still can't quite believe that one of us, one of our family, one of my internet children, has gone to be back with her Rabb.

But that is life. It is temporary, and the only thing that will remain and last forever is what we have with Allah SWT. And for Fatima, it was her love for the Quran. This is her legacy.

What then will be ours, Champs?

I pray whatever it is, may it be noble. May it be honourable. And may it be for His sake. ❤️

Champs, we resume this inspiring series of 'The Chosen Ones' with the story of Sayyidatina Asiya RA, the wife of Firaun. Ustazah Syariati shares with us the heart-wrenching sacrifices of two women in the time of Firaun who believed in Allah only for a short moment of their lives, but were rewarded with the best from Allah SWT for the patience and endurance they showed in their tests. This reminded me how quality worship matters, not just quantity worship.

PS: ROTW Champs, please note the time change for this Sunday's Study Date. (7pm UK instead of 8pm UK)

a beautiful Dua

Ya Allah, allow me to be care-full and never care-less when dealing with people's sacred hearts.

A few days ago, my husband said something that made me think for a long, long while. He was saying how it's really sad but telling when people are careless with their work as it means that they simply do not care. :(I at first thought it was a bit harsh for him to say that but when I thought about it further, I realised that when one cares enough for the people around them, for their faith, for their work, or anything for that matter, one would be attentive, mindful, and full of concern for it. And so I pray that I would be care-full when dealing with people's sacred hearts, because every heart was created by Allah SWT Himself.

a good deed to try

One of the Champs emailed us a very beautiful question a few days ago - she asked, "What do I do with all of this knowledge that I've learned from AA Plus? How do I start sharing them?". Her question made me smile! What an honourable intention she has! I believe the act of sharing can start small, and simple. Start with just one person - it can be your sibling, your spouse, your child, anyone whom your heart pulls toward. It can also start via a simple text message, an email, or through a conversation over tea! One does not need to build a following on Social Media or be "somebody" before they share things. As long as the intention is for His sake, I am sure Allah SWT will open doors of goodness and opportunity for anyone who is sincere in sharing this beautiful Deen. Something that we also learned during the Rabiulawal Revision we had this week was to pray for the people we wish to advise first, and I think we can do the same for the people with whom we want to share things with!

miss doing this in the masjid

OMG YES YES YES YES YES! I miss doing this so much in Masjid Sultan, one of my favourite mosques in Singapore. My Singaporean Champs, if you do get to visit, do this for me please?

Something to Ponder

Allah SWT knows.
And that is always more than enough.

The passing of our beloved Sister Fatima made me realise more than ever that the secret deeds that we do in the dark, in the quiet, will one way or another be revealed by the One whom the deeds were done for in the first place, whenever He thinks the time is right. Same with the truth - how Allah SWT will always expose the wrongdoer and free the innocent at a time when He knows best. And knowing this gives me a renewed sense of hope. Because it is more than enough that He knows. That He sees. That He hears. I mean, who better to elevate and praise you than Allah? Who better to represent you than Allah? And who better to seek the pleasure of other than Allah?

PS.

ending it with His Words

Quran 3:37

Surely Allah provides for whoever He wills without limit.

ASK FROM ALLAH.

HIS GENEROSITY IS LIMITLESS.
